

Thank you to all of the parents who joined us in class for our Science Week investigations, 'To flush or not to flush!'

We learnt valuable lessons about how biodegradable certain products were. We all realised that we must NEVER flush baby wipes, face wipes or surface wipes down the toilet as they cause 'FATBERGS' YUCK!

March 21st was World Down Syndrome Day and we have been raising awareness as this year's campaign is all about support. Everyone needs support sometimes and that's just the same for families of people who have Down syndrome. Thanks to all who showed support by wearing odd socks, lots of you even created your own pair with your family members! Well done all!
